

CONSTRUCTION

Lloyd D. Cadsby
Toronto

Tel. 416.595.8639
lcadsby@millerthomson.ca

LL.B., Osgoode Hall Law School,
1961
B.A., University of Toronto, 1958

Called to the Ontario Bar in 1963

Certified Specialist in Civil Litigation and Construction Law by the Law
Society of Upper Canada

Appointed Queen's Counsel, 1974

Member, Canadian Bar Association
Member, Advocates' Society

Fellow, Canadian College of Construction
Lawyers

Author of numerous papers on construction topics

Frequent lecturer to lawyers, architects, engineers and construction industry groups relating to construction law

Mr. Cadsby's practice is concentrated in commercial litigation, including construction law and professional liability.

He acts as counsel with respect to a diversity of construction law issues, including the preparation of contracts and general advice in construction matters.

His construction law practice encompasses a wide range of matters relating to the resolution and litigation of construction disputes. He acts for owners, contractors, subcontractors, contractor associations, material suppliers and design professionals relating to construction law matters.

His extensive experience in this area qualified him to serve as a member of the Attorney General's Advisory Committee on the Construction Lien Act, representing the interests of contractors and material suppliers.

Mr. Cadsby is trained and practices as both an arbitrator and a mediator. He further acts as counsel in arbitration and mediation.

He also acts as counsel in the defence of malpractice claims against lawyers in the context of commercial and construction matters.

Providing a seasoned, business approach, Mr. Cadsby is committed to resolving client matters as quickly, practically and cost-effectively as possible.

Lloyd is identified in Lexpert as being consistently recommended as counsel in construction law matters.